JUSTICE SAYS THAW IS INSANE

HIS RELEASE DANGEROUS TO PUBLIC PEACE.

Slayer of Stanford White Fails to Gain Liberty—Will Continue Fight for Freedom—Statement Made by Mrs. Thaw, Sr.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Harry K. Thaw's latest attempt to gain liberty met complete defeat to day when Justice Mills dismissed the writ of habeas corpus and declared that "release of the petitioner would be dangerous to public peace and safety."

The seven thousand word opinion of the court upholds all the contentions of Thaw's adversary, District Atorney Thaw. It declares Thaw is stilll insane, still suering from persistent delusions and still as much a paranoiac as when he shot Stanford White.

Thaw, in the jail, in the rear of the court house, received the news with forced calmness. His family and attorney seemed stunned. Thaw simply asserted he was not disheartened and would continue to fight for his liberty. "My next efforts," he said, "will be centered upon the court of appeals, through which I expect to secure a hearing before a jury."

The case before the court of appeals came before Justice Mills last October when Thaw applied for an order setting aside his commitment on the ground that the court was without power to issue such an order, as Thaw at the time was not on trial on the question of sanity. He asked also to have the question of his mental condition submitted to a jury. When Justice Mills denied this application the case was appealed to the appellate division, which sustained Justice Mills. Thaw's attorney have already made a second appeal.

To day's decision characterizes Evelyn Thaw's tale of the Madison Square Tower room and similar stories about White told at the hearing, as "wild and grossly improbable, evidently grossly exaggerated." He asserts belief in the testimony of Susan Merrill regarding Thaw's alleged pervert practices, and points out the contrast between Thaw's alleged attitude as the protector of young womanhood and his private life.

Justice Mills sympathized with the mother of Thaw. This evidently prompted his recommendation Thaw be allowed greater privileges at Matteawan. A not less significant sentence in the decision, in the opinion of lawyers, is the one declaring Thaw's "delusions had become fixed prior to the time of his marriage." It is pointed out the sentence may, if desired, prove ground for proceedings by Evelyn for annulment of the marriage.

To night Thaw's mother wrote a statement for the Associated Press, in which she says:

"Let no one imagine Justice Mills' opinon means a vectory for the distdict attorney of New York. The delusion with which he and alienists started out with were proven. Every prop was taken from under that arrogant, vindicative persecutor of a sane, acquitted man. It is impossible to fathom the workings of the human mind, so the reason for this cruel decision of the judge must remain a mystery. Meanwhile my son, daughter and I will take up again the burden I h ad every reason to believe was behind us forevery."

GOLF TOURNAMENTS

Four Survivors in Onwentsia Club Contest—Opening Play in Wisconsin Tournament.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Western champion, Charles Evans, Jr., Roswell F. Mundy of Exmoor, Gordon Copeland of Skokie, and Ralph Hoagland of Riverside were survivors in the annual open tournament at the Onwentsia club. Albert Seckel of Riverside who was defeated in the second round by Evans, 2 up 1 to go, shares honors with the successful cemi-finalists, as he equalled the course record—70—and broke the record for the last nine holes by coming in 32 in his first round match with W. P. Schatz of Wheaton. In defeating Seckel, Evans made 75 and Seckels 76. Hoagland defeated Mason Phelps, former western champion, by 1 up after a hard struggle.

Wisconsin Championship.

Milwaukee, Aug. 12.—C. C. Allen of Kenosha, with a medal score of 75, was a gold medalist in the opening of play for the Wisconsin golf championship to day. He was three strokes better than R. P. Cavanagh, former champion, his team mate, but with the exception of these two scores and 79 reported by Gordon Yule of Kenosha, western interscholastic champion, the scores ranged high on account of a w et course. Entries number 100. La Crosse is in the lead for the 1910 tournament.

WILL E NO STRIKE.

Offer of Chicago Street Railways Accepted by Union.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—By offer of a maximum wage scale of 30 cents an hour, to be paid within two years, made by the North and West Side street railway lines, and prompt acceptance of the same by President Quinlan of the union, all possibility of a strike appears over. President Mitten of the south side lines has allowed it to be understood his company will take similar action.

HOTTEST DAY OF YEAR.

Springfield, Aug. 12.—This was the hottest day of the year in central Illinois. The official temperature was 96. Street thermometers were over 100. Several prostrations and one death.

WAR WILL BE DECLARED

Realistic Contest Will Commence To Morrow and Continue for a Week—Sixteen Thousand Troops Will Take Part.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 12.—War is to be declared against the United States by a foriegn power tomorrow night and promptly at mid-night the hostile invaders will cut off all telegraph and telephone connections in the attacked territory, somewhere between Boston and the southern state line. In its extremity the Federal government will call upon the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to defend its free soil against the invading enemy. These formalities will mark the beginning of the greatest war game which this country has ever seen.

The mimic invasion and defense, which both will be made as realistic as possible under existing conditions, will last a full week and will serve several purposes. The pretended war will involve more than 16,000 men, mostly members of the state militia of New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts, with a few men from Washington, D. C. and a small force of regular cavalry to increase the available cavalry force required in the maneuvres. The operations will be conducted under conditions as nearly as possible corresponding to the conditions of actual warfare and the troops taking part in the maneuvres will thus be given valuable experience in actual field work.

Another object of the mimic war will be the testing of certain new theories of a tactical nature and of certain methods of handling, moving provisioning and transporting large bodies of troops and war material under conditions which would prevail in case of actual war.

In answer to the call of the Federal government the State of Massachusetts will mobilize a force of about seven thousand State troops equipped and armed, and provided equiped and armed, and provided with U. S. rations to the fornt, that is, the point or points where the invading force of nine thousand men has effected a landing. The invading force will consist of infantry, cavalry and artillery, supplied by the States of New York and Connecticut and the District of Columbia. The attack will be directed by Major-General Leonard Wood, while the defense will be in the hands of Major-General William A. Pew, commander of the Massachusetts militia.

In accordance with the plans arranged, immediately after the war has been declared, the troops from Washington, those from New York and those from Connecticut, completely equipped and armed for actual field duty, will proceed with the greatest rapidity to a certain rendezvous, the location of which is kept secret, and there embark in several transports. The transports will proceed to some point on the Massachusetts coast, also kept a profound secret. There a landing will be effected and the military force formed into a line of attack with a view of surprising the defenses of Boston and taking them. Aside from the transports the naval force of the United States will take no part in the mimic war. Attack and defense will be on land and the fighting line may extend over a distance of thirty miles.

The war operations are to cover seven days and will include night marches, sorties from the forts guarding Boston harbor and various other field maneuvres. It will be rough campaigning in a hostile country in every sense. The invading forces will, of course only theoretically, destroy telegraph and telephone lines and will have to fight its way from the landing place inch by inch to the defenses of Boston. Umpires will decide the results of the various maneuvres and mimic combats. There will be all kinds of military work to do for the combatting forces, scouting, skirmishing, flanking and marching, digging of trenches, crossing streams with full equipment and quick marches over rough country. Both forces will be accompanied by their signal corns, carrying complete outfits for field and wireless telegraphing, semaphores, etc. and even balloons and aeroplanes are to be given a test if an opportunity should offer itself.

Of course it will be impossible for sixteen thousand men with cavalry, artillery and baggage train to carry on operations in a settled country without causing more or less damage. Adjusters will accompany both armies and settle with citizens for any damage that may have been done to private property. It is expected that the total cost of this week of war will amount to more than $500,000. The provisioning of the armies during the maneuvres will require more than 75,000 pounds of rations. The greater part of the coast may be borne by the States the troops of which are taking part in the game of war.

FOUND $3,000 PEARL.

Pike County Democrat: There are pearls and pearls of different sizes and values being found by the shell diggers on the Illinois river this season. The best find we have heard of lately, however, according to Wm. Lahr, the traveling man, was made last week near Pearl in this county, by a man by the name of Edward Lacy who picked up a specimen which weighed 62 grains, was near shaped and of very beautiful tinge. Mr. Lacy had but little idea what his find was worth and when a Jew buyer, the first to come along, offered him $800 for it he snapped at the offer and let him have it. It, however, is said has turned out that the pearl was worth at least $3,000.

SURPRISE OF DAY WAS TWO NINETEEN TROT.

Race Won by Jack McKerron in Straight Heats—Bets Declared Off in 2:21 Trot Owing to Judges Questioning Carroll's Driving.

Cleveland, Aug. 12.—Mediocre racing made the third day of the Grand Circuit meetin uninteresting. The day was dark, cool and races slow. Jack McKerron proved the surprise of the day, winning the 2;19 trot in straight heats. Marie N was favorite at $25 to $8 against the field, but she was unable to finish well.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS HEARD.

Spokane Wash. Aug. 12.—Though this was the fourth day of the National Irrigation Congress the interest in the preceedings was apparently undiminished on the part of the many delegates in attendance. The program arranged for the morning and afternoon sessions was one of the best of the entire convention. Foremost among the scheduled speakers and their topics were the following: "Irrigation from the National Point of View," Senator Thomas Carter of Montana; "Soil Utilization," James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture; "Apples and Alfalfa," Alva Adams, former Governor of Colorado; "Scope and purpose of Irrigation Investigations of the United States Office of Experimnt Stations", Dr A. Waller, irrigation expert, United States Department of Agriculture; "Irrigation and Irrigation Development in Canada" J. S. Dennis of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Battle etween Constables and Strikers at Fort William, Ont.—Five Wounded.

Fort William, Ont., Aug. 12.—Fort William is under martial law. A thousand dock laborers, principally Greeks, Hungarians and Italians, who have been on a strike a week, enraged by the arrival of thirty special Canadian Pacific police from Winnipeg, began rioting to day, and 300 of them engaged in a pitched battle with police. A score of men were injured, Chief Ball of the railway company local force, and two Greeks fatally. Ball was shot in the stomach. Five of the wounded are special policemen, three Greeks, one a reporter and one a police sergeant. A regiment of militial was called out this afternoon and are glarding the district. Two hundred regulars from Winnipeg will arrive early to morrow

Police to day were unable to control either the imported constables or strikers. The latter are rabid and ignorant and shoot in any direction, regardless of who is hit. It is believed the first shot was fired by one of the imported constables in disregard to orders. It was heard when the constables were going through the railorad yards to a boarding house opposite the freight house. Firearms of every description were immediately drawn by strikers and a melee ensued.

t the city hall railroad officials had just agreed to grant the demands of the men for an increased scale when rioting began. Officials then notified the mayor they will fight the strike out. For an hour this afternooon volleyes of s hots were heard in quick succession. The strikers drove constables into a bunk house, where this evening they are undengoing a siege. They were preparing to storm the house when the city police induced them to refrain. Constables had been firing from crevices and through windows. All the windows of the bunk house and the railroad yard buildings were smashed by bullets. Strikers retreated only a little way, then kept up an intermittent fire under the very eyes of police officials. Strikers to night threatened to burn the Canadian Pacific grain elevators. The saloons are closed to night by order of the mayor.

VISITS FORMER PASTORATE.

Rev. C. R. Morrison and son Rees returned last evening from a trip to Griggsvillel, Barry and Payson, driving the distance with a horse and buggy. At Payson Rev. Mr. Morrison occupied the pulpit on Sunday and preached to a former congregation, which is his first experience of that sort since entering the ministry. Mrs. Morrison and daughter, Miss Margaret, who also left here in the party, remained until Monday to visit further with friends. They had a very hot drive, but in spite of that fact all had a very pleasant time, visiting old friends and renewing acquaintanceships.

HAD ACCOMPLICES

Several Arrests to Be Made in Connection With Tipton Bank Embezzlement.

Topton, Ind., Aug. 12.—Assistant United States District Attorney Nichols returned to Tipton to day and said he was prepared to issue warrants for the arrest of several business men charged with complicity in the alleged embezzlement of Noah R. Marker, assistant cashier of the First National bank. Several secret service men are here.

It is said that persons charged with being accomplices of Marker are associated with him in land deals in Canada and Texas. It was announced this afternoon that the bank would be re-opened Saturday. The shortage of about $150,000 is covered by the stockholders.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS

Ballinger Defended for His Action—Attack Made on Power Company.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 12.—John Wilson, former United States senator from Washington, and John Farson, a Chicago millionaire, to day came to the defense of Secretary Ballinger before the National Iddigation congress. Ex-Governor Pardee started to day's argument over the reclamation controversy by again accusing Ballinger of permitting opening for entry of valuable water power sites. Farson arose and asked Pardee if he meant to insinuate that the secretary was dishonest. With pardee's reply he meant no such accusation, the incident was dropped.

W. W. Ferrell, of Ferrell, Idaho, started an attack on the Washington Power company, which supplies power to Spokane. He said, "After a quarter of a century wherein many worked hard to make homes, the Washington company dammed ou our valley, overflowed our lands, and drowned our crops. There are men in my town who will smash that dam with dynamite and send a forty foot wall of water down this valley and what will happen to Spokane will make the Johnstown flood look like shedding tears, if something is not done."

Wilson replied: "There may be water power companies that disobey the law, but I stand for Ballinger and shall hear no man say he is dishonest. If necessary, I defend Ballinger's superior—President Taft. What they have done, was done under the law. It is for the people to support the government, not the government the people. For this reason I say private enterprises should reclaim these deserts."

In the afternoon a baseball game between Manchester and Murrayville furnished amusement the game being won by Murrayville by a score of 18 to 7. Batteries—Manchester, Vantile and Alred; Murrayville, Million, Fanning and Wright.

The success of the picnic is due to the efforts of the pastor of the two churches, Rev. H. B. Wooding, and an able committee which assisted him.

MET DEATH IN SANGAMON RIVER

MISS IDA SMITH FINDS WATERY GRAVE.

Young Lady While Boat Riding With Friends, Meets With Fatal Accident at Old Salem Chautauqua Grounds—Was Engaged to be Married to Clark Estill, Who Also Narrowly Averts Death.

One of the saddest accidents that Old Salem chautauqua has ever witnessed happened Thursday morning when Miss Ida Smith, of Petersburg, was drowned and Clark Estill and Oran Clark narrowly escaped death by drowning in the Sanagamon river near the chautauqua grounds, while out boat riding.

The following is said to be the story of the drowning: Miss Smith in company with the boys mentioned above, went to the chautauqua grounds early and rented a boat, the boys to go bathing. They rowed out a little way when the boat started to leak, and they started for the bank. When they got close to the bank, at a place where the boys supposed the water was shallow, Estill, who was a good swimmer, jumped out to pull the boat in so that no more water would get in it. He found that the water was very deep and then Clark, who could not swim, jumped out to help Estill with the boat. This action frightened Miss Smith, who also jumped into the water and caught hold of Estill's bathing suit. The suit was not very strong and when she caught it Miss Smith nearly tore it off of him. The suit giving away let her down in the water and she was drowned before help could arrive.

Miss Sadie Kopchie of Springfield, a friend of Miss Smith, was standing on the bank at the time and waded out into the water as far as she could and caught Estill, who was nearly drowned, by the hand and pulled him up on the bank and after a half hour's work he had nearly recovered. Clark in the meantime, saw that he was nearly gone and caught hold of the side of the boat and in that way managed to hold his head above water. Some boys who were rowing at the time hurried to the scene and took Clark in their boat, but were too late to render the others any assistance.

The remains of Miss Smith were recovered after an hour's work in dragging the river and were placed on the bank near to await the arrival of the coroner.

Coroner Dr. Wilkins was in the country at the time and did not arrive until about 1 o'clock, when he empanneled a jury and held the inquest on the banks of the river and returned a verdict that she was accidentally drowned while in bathing.

The remains were taken to Campbell's undertaking parlors in Petersburg and prepared for the casket and will be sent to the family home in Bath this morning, where the funeral services and burial will be held.

Miss Ida Smith was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Bath, and was born near that place April 27, 1885. When she was 5 years of age she was taken to rear by an aunt named Pierson. She graduated from the Athens high school and was a teacher there for four years. At the time of her death she was teaching at the Curtis school near Petersburg and was making her home with the county school superintendent, Mrs. Eva Batterton. She was a member of the Rebekah lodge of Athens and was at one time a member of the Methodist church at that place. Besides her parents she is survived by four sisters, Myrtle, Irene, Eva and Viva and three brothers. She was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends who will be sad to hear of her untimely end. It is said that Miss Smith was engaged to be married to Clark Estill.

The people at the chautauqua were greatly stirred up over the accident and things were unusually quiet at the grounds all days Thursday.

TAFT HAS HOODOO

Unable to Win Golf Game This Week—Will Hold Patronage Feast To Day.

Beaverly, Auguust 12.—There is a Hoodoo campiug on Taft's trail every time he plays golf. The President has not won this week. To day he had John Hays Hammond as opponent and lost an eighteen hole match 1 up.

Secretary Nagel is coming to morrow to recommend the appointment of more than three hundred census supervisors. Postmaster General Hitchcock, patronage expert of the cabinet, will also be here. E. Dana Durand, director of census, will also be present at the patronage feast and probably Assistant Secretary McHarg of the department of commerce and labor also.

Secretary Carpenter to day telegraphed every city where Taft is scheduled to stop during the coming trip, asking committees to send programs at o nce. The president has the last say about programs and doubtless a number of changes will be made. Taft will be unable to go to Panama next year as intended. With a long session of congress all next winter and spring he thinks the chances of getting to Panama at a reasonable time very remote.

VAN SANT ELECTED

Chosen Commander of G. A. R.—Will Vote on Next Encampment To Day.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 12.—Samuel R. Van Sant of Minnesota, was elected commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic this evening, winning over Judge Wm. A. Ketcham of Indiana, by a vote of 587 to 156.

Mrs. Jennie L. Berry of Des Moines Iowa, was chosen national president of the Wowan's Relief corps after a contest wherein three ballots were taken. Mrs. Berry was elected over Mrs. Belle Harris of Kansas by a vote of 213 to 90.

The Grand Army's order of business did not provide for elections to day, but increasing departures of delegates warned the encampment an early choice would be necessary to secure full expression of the will of the majority. In addition to Van Sant the following were elected:

Senior vice commander, W. M. Bostaph, Ogden, Utah.

Junior vice commander, Judge Alfred Beers, Bristow.

Surgeon, H. H. Lemon, Lawrence, Kans.

Nominations of chaplain were made, but owing to the lateness of the hour the election of chaplain and selection of next meeting place went over until to morrow. A poll indicates the chances of St. Louis for the forty-fourth encampment are much brighter. Atlantic City does not want the encampment in August and veterans are loath to change the month of meeting.

HOTTEST DAY OF YEAR.

Thursday a Record Breaker With Thermometer at 96—Cheer Up, Frosts Predicted for September.

When will it ever cease? Old Sol still continues to torture humanity with his sweltering rays of heat. He forced old mercury in the thermometer to go two notches higher yesterday and recoreded the hottest day of the year. Ninety-six was also the maximum of the month of August a year ago. We are not particular about breaking any records this year, Mr. Thermo, and without any ill feeling from the public you can come down several steps if it so pleases you. But the chances are that he will play contrary and maintain his record for a few days yet at least. Better endure it the best you can for it can't last always. We have frost predicted for September.

Charles R. Clouder of White Hall was the guest of friends in the city last night. He is employed in Springfield.

Word has gone out that the great emotional role in the sensational French play, "Madame X," which Henry W. Savage has scheduled for its first American production in Chicago, will fall to Dorothy Donnelly. This is the part played in Paris by Jane Hading. Lena Ashwell will appear in the role in London at the same time.

L. P. Anderson of the Grand opera house is in St. Louis to day on business in connection with the vaudeville season.

DRIVEN BY MOB FROM ARENZVILLE

THREE NEGROES VICTIM OF ATTACK BY CITIZENS.

Laborers on the New School Building Were Driven From City and Made Trip to Jacksonville on Foot—Mayor and Board of Education Aroused Over Action—Contractor Gonsalves Will go to Law on Matter.

Three negro laborers, employed by Contractor R. L. Gonsalves in the erection of the school building at Arenzville, were driven from that place Wednesday night by a mob of citizens and to make their escape walked the entire distance from Arenzville to Jacksonville, leaving there about 11 o'clock and arriving in this city at 7:30 Thursday morning.

The men were Marshall Pierson, Henry Tandy and Dave Johnson, all residents of this city, and had been taken to Arenzville on the noon train Tuesday. At the time of the raid by the mob, Tandy was very sick and had been under the doctor's care, but he revived enough strength to make the trip on foot to Jacksonville. He is now at his home on South Fayette street in a very bad condition.

Some of the most prominent business men of the town are said to have been in the mob and if the negroes had not successfully made their escape it is difficult to surmise what would have been the outcome. The negroes were sleeping in a tent and never heard of the intended raid upon their camp until about a half hour before the mob reached the place where they were supposed to be, but the colored men had gone. When informed they immediately made a hasty escape, striking out through the cornfields and kept up the walk until they reached Jacksonville. It is remarkable that Tandy stood the trip, as he was in a very bad condition, suffering severely with the cramps.

The men were taken to Arenzville Tuesday and had worked Tuesday afternoon and all day Wednesday under the supervision of George Gonsalves, who is directing the work on the building. Mr. Gonsalves was very careful to sound the attitude of the people of that vicinity toward the negroes and asked the mayor and the town marshal if it would be all right to use colored laborers in the erection of the building, as he was unable to secure white laborers. He was assured by these town officials that it would be perfectly safe and had the men taken there with that assurance. The mayor and the board of education are very much irritated over the matter, not only because of the discourteous and intended outrageous treatment to the laborers, but because they are very anxious to push the work on the school building. Mr. Gonsalves is also very indignant and intends to go to law about the matter. He says that he has the names of several who were implicated in the mob and he intends to enter proceedings against them at once.

OLD SETTLERS REUNION.

There is some discussion on among older citizens as to whether or not an old settlers' reunion will be held this year. It has been several years since a meeting of the old settlers of the county has been held and there are many citizens who regret to see the old association letting the years go by without these gatherings. If anything is done this season arrangements will have to be made very soon.

BURLINGTON EXTENSION MEANS GREAT THINGS.

Will Be Connecting Link Between the Northwest and the South.

A recent issue of Harper's Weekly, referring to the three great railroad men of to day, Jas. J. Hill, Harriman and Milton H. Smith, of the Louisville & Nashville, says, editorially:

"They have all three, it seems, taken hold of the idea that streams of commerce ought to flow in greater volume from northwest to southeast, and vice versa. * * * Now it is announced that the Burlington, one of the Hill roads, is to build a branch to Paducah, Ky., there to connect with the Louisville & Nashville. Over that system and over the South Over that system and over the Southern as well, Hill will thus obtain through lines to nearly all the bigger southern cities and seaports. President Smith, it is understood, is cooperating heartily to bring the northwest and the south into an association not unlike that which the great east and west lines long ago established between the east and the entire west. That entire achievement in transportation is the special triumph of our industrial history * * * The traffic will not all go one way. Both are great producing sections, and each has much, and will have more and more, to sell to the other."

And the Burlington is the great connecting link in this magnificent prospect of the future. The Burlington itself is connected up to the northwest by the Jacksonville Southeastern.

In another contributed article by Franklin Escher, under the head "Finance: the Promise of the Harvest," the Weekly had this, in part: "Another big step in the railroad development of the south will have been taken when these is completed the proposed line connecting the Burlington and the Louisville — Nashville systems at Paducah, Ky. * * * Completion of the connecting link would mean the opening up of a great southern territory to the Hill lines. * * * Mr. Hill is the "Empire Builder" and whenever his influence has extended it has been accompanied by development and progress. * * *"

Waterloo at Keokuk.
Ottumwa at Quincy.
Burlington at Hannibal.

After losing nine straight games Jacksonville got on her feet Thursday and beat Kewanee by a score of 4 to 1. Kewanee got her lone run before Jacksonville was able to count and it looked like another defeat to the faithful fans The aspect of things changed in the sixth when we got two runs over and caused much joy.

Kench and O'Hearn were the opposing pitchers and until the sixth inning Jacksonville had been able to get but one hit off Kench and that a scratch made by Berte in attempting to sacrifice During the same period Kewanee had made three off O'Hearn, one a doulbe.

Kewanee made her run in this manner. Phelan singled and was safe at second on Crandall's sacrifice. Fitzgerald dropped O'Hearn's throw to first and Crandall was safe. Calahan sacrificed O'Hearn to Fitzgerald and Crandall moved up a peg. Morris hit to Berte and Phelan was caught at the pan. With Clair at the bat, Crandall attempted to steal home. Harlow put the ball on him and then dropped the ball and the run was over.

In the sxth the locals suddenly found their batting eyes. After Berte had flied to Calahan, Hughes hit to the fence in right center for two bases. Jasper followed with a home run over the left field fence, counting two. Fitzgerald singled but was caught at second trying to make two bases. Blausser flied to Johnson. In the eighth the game was furtaer tucked in Manager Berte's grip. With two out Jasper singled and took second on Fitzgerald's second safety. Blausser slapped one to left field for two bases and Jasper and Fitzgerald scored. O'Hearn got better as the game advanced and held Kewanee safe all the way. The score:

Kewanee.

Waterloo Reporter:—It's all up to Jacksonville If that city casts a vote in the Waterloo-Keokuk imbroglio, then the cause of the locals is lost and Keokuk will have the laugh on the league directors The champs would be absolutely certain of the two games had not Secretary Bonham of the Ottumwa association gone back on his word Mr. Bonham assured Managers Owens and Egan, while Burlington was playing a series in Ottumwa, that he would vote in favor of Waterloo When the two managers left the city he changed his mind and cast a ballot upholding the steal

Kewanee has joined with Ottumwa against the champs and word received from President Hill of the Kewanee asociation is that he has voted to uphold President Justice. This makes the returns up to date three for and two against Waterloo with Jacksonville not voting. If the Jacksonville director does not change his mind and refuse to cast a ballot on the question then our cause is triumphant and Keokuk will have to add two more games to its enlarging column of lost contests. The two games added to the locals' standing will leave Waterloo just forty-six lost. A clean sweep of the error-making Quincyites and we will be right on the heels of Kewanee.

With ur advice you need run no risk. A paint made of

BIGGER CROPS AND BIGGER PRICES.

This year bids fair to break the record of all former years in the amount of farm products.

This being true, one would think that prices would drop down to the bottom. Yet, December wheat is selling at a dollar, corn at 55c and all other fram products are keeping at top prices.

Only a small part of our farm products find a market abroad. About two thirds of our raw cotton, one fifth of our wheat and flour, and a small proportion of our meats consitute the chief bulk of exports of the products of the farm. Substantially all the remainder is consumed at home.

The dairy products are greater in value that all the wheat that is raised in the United States. Poultry and eggs amount to as much as our wheat crop in value. The oat crop is more than half the value of the wheat crop, and the potato crop more than a third while the hay crop exceeds th wheat crop many millions of dollars. And there is the mammoth corn crop, estimated at 3,000,000,000 bushels.

Then there is fruit and garden truck amounting to many millions of dollars. With the exception of raw cotton, and a small proportion of our meat products substantially all this enormous output of the farm finds a market in the United States—at the prevailing thigh prices. Every cotton mill, every lumber camp, every clothing factory, every watch factory, every maker of agriculture implements, every carpet factory, every furniture factory, every glass factory, every iron and steel mill, every leather and shoe factory, every pulp and paper mill, every pottery works, every silk mill, every mine of copper, lead, iron and zinc, every cigar factory—all these with their thousands and hundreds of thousands of employes at double the wages of any European country, make a constant demand for food. And, with all these industrial establishments, the building trades and transportation are stimulated.

eH do eit snomfwypmfwypwypppup bama, Democratic member of the Ways and Means committee of the house, in a speech which he made July 31, estimates the number of people engaged in manufacturng articles protected by the tariff directly, at over 5,000,000 and the total wages paid them at $2,611,540,000.

He does not include the mines, the building trades nor transportation, which employments are largely stimulated by the increase of manufacturers and manufacturing plants.

As a customer for the products of the farm an American laborer is worth twice as much as a laborer in Great Britian, and three times as much as a laborer in the rest of Europe, for his wages enable hm to buy that much more in proportion.

Are not these mills and factories worth something to the farmer? The farmer is certain of the American market for all those by-products of the farm , which he cannot ship abroad—such as eggs, poultry and dairy products, fruits and garden truck. Suppose he had to hunt for a market in foreign londs for these things which now find a ready sale at every factory and mill town, and every place where there are large industrial establishments?

Does the farmer want the tariff off, thot he may buy his manufactured goods from cheap foreign factories? The farmer ought to remember that these factories cannot exist unless they can sell their products.

With these magnificient prices for his bounteous crops in a home market (and every American laboring man is a factor in maintaining those prices) where is the farmer who prefers to buy even the necessaries of life manufactured abroad? Is not the worker in the mill and factory your fellow countryman? Does not he pay you money for every mouthful of food that he eats—and at a price higher than the farmer ever had before? We could wish that the farmer would disregard politics and look this thing squarely in the face. The working man in the mill and mine and factory in these United States is the American farmer's best customer.

GUN CLUB SHOOT

Held at Nichols Park Yesterday—New Division of Money Inaugurated.

The Nichols Park Gun club held a shoot at Nichols park Thursday, the purpose of which was to try a new division of money, the plan being originated by J. A. Groves. There were about fifteen shooters present and each was to shoot at 200 birds. The best professional score was made by J. A. Groves, who hit 192 birds.

The following are the four best scores of the amateurs:
Edward Scott, 187.
G. A. Riley, 180.
Wiley Todd, 179.
J. Z. Scott, 176.

In this case, in the new way of cashiering a shoot, it is divided into ten 20 bird events, a ten straight any where in these events being counted a point. The amount of money in the purse is divided by the number of points made, this being the value of each point. The number of points are then multiplied by the amount, thus giving you the money each man won. In this way almost any one can cashier a shoot, while with the old way it takes an expert to do the work.

Limit of Praise.

The limit of praise for food was reached the other day in a Sixth avenue restaurant where the old fashioned confidential Irish waiters are still to be found. A man well known to the place came in very late at night for supper and asked the man who had taken his orders for years, "What's good today?"

"I'll tell you, sir," was the reply; "we've just got some clams in, fresh from the water, and (this in a whisper) I don't mind telling you, sir, they're so good the waiters are eating 'em themselves."—New York Sun.

To give to the play a modern flavor Willard Holcomb will revise "Baron Rudolph", which was written years ago by the late Bronson Howard.

REAPING BENEFIT.

From the Experience of Jacksonville People.

Fred I. Gibson 143 Grand avenue, Jacksonville, Ill., says: "About four years ago I had an attack of the grippe and it weakened my kidneys. After that whenever I caught cold, I had a dull pain in the small of my back and I always felt tired. Being urged to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so and they soon cured the attack. Since that time when I have felt the least return of the trouble, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have always relieved me. I hope other kidney sufferers will try this excellent medicine."

BANK ROBBED IN DAY LIGHT

CASHIER RELIEVED OF $2,500 IN BILLS.

Bold Bandit Enters Farmers and Marchants Bank of Franklin and at Point of Gun Demands the Money—Suspect Put Under Arrest and Brought to Jacksonville.

Franklin Citizens Don't Agree on Perpetrators.

A bold daylight robbery was pulled off at Franklin, 12 miles southeast of Jackksonville, Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, when the Farmers' and Marchants, bank of that place was entered by a bandit, who at the point of a 44 calibre revolver, relieved Cashier G. P. Wright of $2,500 and quickly made his exit by the back door.

Wanted Bll Changed.

The story of the robbery is as follows: About 1:30 o'clock a man dressed in a blue shirt, flat straw hat of medium size, about 30 years of age, stepped into the bank and stated that he had some bills and silver and wanted to get them exchanged for a $100 bill. There were no other persons in the bank at the time except Mr. Wright's brother, T. W. Wright, who was working on the books, and C. M. Hocking, an aged man who had been talking with the Wright brothers relative to insurance. The cashier informed the stranger that he did not have any $100 bill in the small drawer at the counter and would have to go to the safe for it. This he did, bringing out of the vault five packages, each containing various denominations as the bills were not sorted, to the amount of $2,500. Mr. Wright was just in tse act of turning around when he was confronted by the robber, who had jumped through the cashier's window, and covering him with a gun, a 44 calibre revolver, ordered him too throw up his hands. In the meantime Mr. Hocking, seeing what was about to take place, started out of the front door to give the alarm, when the stranger pointed his revolver at him and in a gruff voice comanded him to proceed no further. The casher was so taken by surprise and frightened that he handed over the money at once and, as quickly as the robber jumped through window, with similar speed he made his get away, through the rear door. Mr. Wright's brother, when he saw the man coming through the window made a break for the back door also in order to summon help, and the door also, n order to summon help, and the bandit almost beat him out of the door havng lerally grabbed the bills from the cashier's hand. from the cashier's hands.

T. W. Wright went with post haste to the Franklin bank, where he ask- M. B. Keplinger for a revolved, saying that a man was robbing his bank. He was given the gun and it was not a few minutes until a large crowd had gathered about the building to ascertain the cause of all the excitement. Some one reported that a man had been seen running toward the Burlington depot and Alderman H. J. Roberts hastened to the station, where he intercepted a suspicious looking character and put him under arrest.

Sheriff Graff Leads Posse.

Sheriff Graff of this city was notified in time to catch the 2 o'clock Burlington train to Franklin and on arriving there a search was instigated. They found two tracks going toward the country and in company with a dozen men a posse was formed and a trail leading southwest to a timber was taken, but the journey proved fruitless Other places about the village were searched but no trace of the robbers could be found.

Mr. Wright is very confident of the looks of the man and noted he was clean shaven, weighing in the neighborhood of 170 pounds and had on neither coat or vest.

The man who was arrested at the depot was questioned closely, and although reticent about a great many things, he dsplayed remarkable shrewdness. He claimed that his home was in Kentucky but had been over the world somewhat, and was familiar with points in the United States. He stated hesitatingly that his name was Joseph Grant, and that he had been over to Springfield for several days and had only been in Franklin since the picnic of the Franklin Outing club.

Arrested Man Tlks.

He also is a man about thirty years of age, clean shaved, wearing a white shirt, gray trousers and a soft hat. He had on his person $75.00 all in $5.00 bills, a fifty cent piece and one penny. He carried an ugly looking weapon, a Colt's revolver, No. 44. When asked about the gun he said that he had traded with James Tribble of Franklin for it. He made no resistance when put under arrest and pleaded that he knew nothing of the affair. He did, however, confess that he was in the rear of the building at the time of the robbery and said that he saw the man who got the money, and wondered what was going on all the time. He seemed to be acquainted with several citizens of Morgan county, among them residents of Jacksonville and it is said he dropped the remark that he had won money from men residing here.

He was visited by a Journal reporter at the jail last night and seemed to be in high spirits talking about everything else except the robbery. He was given a hearing at Franklin in the park, where it seemed the whole town had gathered. The state's attorney was not present and the hearing was before Squire J. G. Dowell. The prisoner requested that N. Z. Reinback act as his attorney. A preliminary hearing was set for August 17, and Mr. Reinback suggested to the prisoner that he get William Hairgrove to take up his case. Mr. Tribble it is reported stated that he did not believe the man was guilty and that the did not want to get mixed up in the affair.

As soon as facts n the case were assured Sheriff Graff sent messages over the country to be on the lookout for the thieves. The local police searched the varous railway yards of the city and when the freight pulled in from the south on the Burlington it was closely inspected. The engineer of the freight made the statement to Chief Davis that at the time Grant was being put under arrest in Franklin he saw another man who answered to the description of the robber standing at the rear of the freight train and giving every evidence that he intended to get on, but when he saw the other fellow put under arrest he took to his heels.

Suspect Brought to Jail.

After the trial at Franklin, through the courtesy of George Wolke, Mr. Graff brought the prisoner to the county jail via the automobile route. After arriving here at about 7 o'clock the sheriff was notified that a man who answered the description was seen at Gilbert's pharmacy. Mr. Graff went to the store and found that a man had been in there who, in conversation with Gray, the ball player, had asked (Gray) if that wasn't George Smith, an officer. When he saw that his presence was detected he quietly picked up a small grip he had and went out of the store and could not be located by the sheriff and his deputies. It is said that the man made the statement in the store that he had walked from Franklin and had an injured leg and wanted to get some ointment.

Citizens Differ in Opinion.

Sheriff Graff was interrogated as to what the citizens of Franklin thought of the whole affair and he stated last night that there seemed to be a difference of opinion. Some thought that the robbery was done by entire strangers and others thought that some local parties were wise in the matter and perhaps had hand in the stealing.

There were several things, Mr. Graff stated, that the people thought looked rather suspicious, but during the excitement they were lost sight of and that in a few days matters might be cleared up.

The Farmers and Merchants bank was organized by the Wright brothers in 1893 with A. H. Wright as president and G. P. Wright as cashier. It has been doing a good business, considering the size of the town. It is understood that the bank carried insurance and that the doors will be opened as usual for business to day.

PROBLEMATIC.

When the girl of today dons her bathing array,
Do you for a moment suppose
The hipless idea will prevail even here,
With a skimpy skirt down to the toes?

Will the blouse be cut short in directoire style,
With a waist line as high as you please,
Or will it be lengthened and modishly made,
With a cute little frill at the knees?

Will the sleeves be tucked down to the finger tips,
The collar boned up to the ears,
And will a peach basket or beehive replace
The kerchief and cap of past years?

Oh, banish the fancy and banish the fear
That a new Aphrodite may rise,
Sans curves and sans dimples, straight fronted, severe,
With the look of the sphinx in her eyes!

When the girl of today dons a bathing suit gay
Perchance we shall finally see
If she's really the strange work of art she now seems
Or what nature ordained her to be.

ZION LACE INDUSTRIES, ZION CITY, ILLINOIS

ZION LACES and many interesting features in their manufacture are on exhibition in one of our show windows. This display is educational and every person should see it.

From 3,400 to 4,500 bobbins are required to thread one lace machine, besides the beam and warp, making a total—when the machine is threaded—of 13,000 threads in actual work. When a machine is fully threaded there are 6,700 miles of cotton on it, enough to reach from here to England and nearly back again.

See the illustrations of the various machines in operation—where they take in the thread and turn out the dainty, attractive laces—also skeins of yarns, yarn spools—pieces of lace just as they come from the machines. Especially interesting is the process of clipping, scalloping and separating. The exhibit is so unique and the values so unusual that a visit will be of material interest to you.

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD

During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Graniteville, Vt. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter." —MRS. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weaknesses, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.

DO NOT TALK TO THE MOTORMEN

This Rule of Street Railway Company is One Which Passengers Should Observe.

But few people realize or stop to consider the exacting duties of a motorman on the street cars. He must ever be watchful and on the alert to avoid accidents. There are times when his duty is nerve racking in the extreme. It is really remarkable that there are not more accidents. Occasionally a little nerve and quick headwork on the motorman's part averts an accident which might cost several lives. In some respects a motorman in a city of this size has more to contend with than an operator in a big city. The average motorman in this city has many friends and acquaintances. These friends occasionally board a car on the forward end and enter into conversation with the motorman. If the motorman talks to his friend he disobeys strict orders from the street railway company and cannot do his duty. On the other hand if he merely answers "yes" or "no" or declines to talk at all, his friend often takes offense because of his apparent coldness. In short if the motorman strictly obeys orders he loses friends, and if he disobeys orders he does so at the risk of human life and danger of losing his job. Another noticeable fact is that the very people who disobey the rules of the company and talk to the motorman are the first ones to complain and censure the motorman if he approaches a corner without sounding the bell, or if the car strikes or narrowly misses a dog or other animal.

The motorman may but turn his head an instant to converse with some friend, but in that space of time a horse may become frightened and turn onto the track or a child may dash in front of the car. When the motorman faces around it may be too late to stop the car. The resultant accident is charged to negligence on the part of the motorman, who possible gets into even more serious trouble. Of course, in such cases the motorman is primarily in the wrong, but in the newspaper accounts you read nothing about the motorman's "friend" who talked to the motorman and drew his attention from his business. If the motorman had strictly obeyed orders, his talkative friend would doubtless have been "sore" because of the so-called shabby treatment accorded him by the motorman. However the fact remains that the motorman disobeyed orders, but most of the motormen are good fellows and err unconsciously when addressed by their friends. The public will confer a favor on the motorman and reduce the number of accidents by obeying that important ruling of the street railway company.

GOOD GINSENG CROP REPORTED

Wausau, Wis., Aug. 12.—Members of the Wisconsin Ginseng Grower's association, assembled in annual convention today, reported the outlook promising for a good crop of the rare product in Wisconsin this year. President M. G. Eberlein, of Shawano, presided over the gathering, which was attended by several score of members of the association.

WOODPECKER DESTRUCTIVE.

Considerable damage is being done to telephone, telegraph and electric light poles by members of the woodpecker family. These birds originally built their homes in the dead or dying trunks or limbs of trees, but for some reason best known to themselves, have come to the conclusion that the peeled pole offers better conditions for a home

They have become so ravenous of late that their depredations are attracting considerable attention among those who are compelled to use quantities of wooden poles. Their activities spread over a wide portion of the United States, notably in the South, Southwest and Central West. Cedar poles seem to be the ones most frequently attacked. The birds bore into them at any height from the ground and the holes which they make are often two or three inches in diameter and four or five inches deep Such an amount of wood drilled from a stick of timber which is carrying a load of wires naturally weakens the strength of the line.

It would, of course, not be a difficult matter to exterminate these birds. However, this is not desirable as they are among the most beneficial forms of bird life native to this country because they destroy large numbers of insects which seriously damage forest and food crops. It seems, therefore, that methods should be undertaken to compel the birds to revert to their former habit of boring rather than to exterminate them.

Frequent inquiries have been made by the Forest Service in this connection, but the only information to date which the government has been able to obtain is that on a casual inspection of treated and untreated pole lines in Louisiana. In that region it was found that poles which had been impregnated with creosote oil were not attacked by the birds, whereas untreated poles under the same conditions were very severely injured

Whether or not creosote will prevent such an attack is not definitely known but the service is investigating this problem and should this oil prove a preventative, it will fulfill a two-fold purpose: It will protect the poles from decay and destructon from animal life In southern Indiana some members of a traction company thought that they could prevent further destruction of their poles by filling the holes in the wood with stones. The birds, however, simply drilled around the stones and made the conditions much worse. This apparently does not seem to be a means of preventing their depredations.

BIG PICNIC FOR CHILDREN.

Adjutant J. W. Kettle of the Salvation army is busy with arrangments for an outing to be given the poor children on August 25. It is expected there will be about 150 selected from the most needy families, who will be given a day of enjoyment at Nichols park. The solicitors have credentials signed by the adjutant, and those who give money or food are requested to ask for said credentials so as to be sure the donation gets to the right place. Everybody is invited to help make the outing a success, and if you know of a poor family inform the odjutant who will inestigate Give something and help along this worthy cause.

ART OF SPELLING

At an examination of students of an eastern university recently it was developed that many of the students who stood high in other branches were remarkably deficient in orthography of common words. At the examination referred to, the prize for best spelling was awarded to a young student who had received his elementary education at a country school. But even the country schools are giving less attention to the matter of correct spelling than formerly, as multiplicity of studies abridges time formerly devoted to this fundamental branch, and the country boys and girls, like those of the city, are leaving school with a smattering of much, rather than a thoroughness of any.

It would be a hard matter for a poor speller to convince the world that he is an educaed person, for correct spelling is one of the best evidenses of culture, and there is really little excuse for slovenly orthography. In these days when every body reads more or less, it is an easy matter to observe the form of words, and thus detect any error in our own spelling. Dictionaries are cheap—a very good hand dictionary can be had for twenty five cents, and where there is a growing family of young people, there should be both a hand dictionary for ordinary use and an unabridged dictionary for more particular definition. Avery profitable way to spend the evening during the winter would be to have periodical spelling matches, where several families of friends could meet at each other's houses, and find both entertainment and culture. Many of our elderly people remember with pleasure the "spelling matches" of their youth, and these could be revived with profit to all.

COUNTRY GIRL HITS THE MARK.

She Tells How Social Life is Stunted in the Country—Good Hint For Mothers.

—"Indiana Girl" writes a letter to the Orange Judd Farmer touching a most vital point in the permanent success and attractiveness of rural life.

"The only thing lacking is social life. There are very, very many parties given around here. No one thinks of giving a party at their home, because the mothers object to having the crowd tracking over their fine carpets. Then, too, parents do not like to hear the noise that the young people make. For this reason the young people have chosen the town hall as the place to give their parties. If parents would allow children to give parties at their homes there would be no need of having parties in the hall."

There is vastly more involved in this than a girl,s complaint or the enjoyment of an evenings party. There is more involved in it than the young people themselves can see, and more than many mothers do see. The fundamented question is, which is of most importance, the noise and "tracking over fine carpets", or the wholesome development of social life among the young people. Many thoughtful people have considered girls and boys worth more than carpets or the labor of covering or cleaning carpets. The young people may have a fine social time off in the city hall, but the chances are it will not be so safe and wholesome as it would be in one of the homes of the neighborhood.

And if there were no loss in the tone and tendency of its atmosphere, there is still the serious effect of the people coming to understand that parties and good times are a part of the town and do not belong to the country—that country life is shorn of these enjoyments and bearable only for other considerations—a place to get away from at the first favorable opportunity to live or work in town. It is not merely the question of the labor and bother of having these parties but a far deeper question of whether or not the boys and girls shall grow up with the idea and memory that the finest times in their lives shall be associated with the rural home and the rural community.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. THE MARKETS

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Wheat—Crop report of Canadian government which indicated a total yield of wheat amounting to approximately hundred and seventy-five million bushels for that country this year had a depressing effect on wheat to day, the final quotations showing a net loss of ⅜@⅝. Weakness of foreign markets also helped create a heavy tone at the start.

Corn—Beneficial rains in the corn belt had a weakening effect on corn, sentiment being bearish nearly the entire day. September was congested and its price was forced up about a cent on covering by shorts. The upturn, however, was short lived, the price declining again on fresh selling based chiefly on weather conditions.

Oats—Market inclined to be weak owing to continued heavy movement of the new crop, but delay to harvesting, due to wet weather, had a tendency to steady the market. Brisk demand for cash grain also had a bullish effect. At the close prices were unchanged to ⅛ lower.

NOTICE TO WOOL GROWERS

We are in the market for wool; will pay the highest cash price. We wish to urge upon wool growers the importance of tying wool with small hard twine. Any soft twine from which vegetable fibres can adhere to the wool is objectionable and we particularly warn growers against using sisal or binding twine, as manufacturers are positively refusing to buy wool so tied. We keep on stock the proper kind of wool twine; also a supply of wool bags.

COMPLAINS OF POOR ASPHALT

Springfield News Says Unsatisfactory Work Has Been Done In Capital City—Says Conditions are Better Elsewhere.

The Springfield News on Monday last printed the editorial given below commenting upon the unsatisfactoory asphalt that has been laid in Springfield. The Journal is not championing either the cause of brick or that of asphalt but whatever is done in the line of public improvement should be of the best materials and workmanship. If brick pavements are laid in Jacksonville the work should be done in acordance with the best specifications the engineer and the board of local improvement can furnish and the same should hold true of any asphalt laid. Judging from the News the experience of Springfield has been bitter in the matter of asphalt and the engineer should see to it that for any asphalt paving done in Jacksonville that the materials are the very best and that the work is done strictly in accordance with the specifications. The News' editorial follows:

"Fourth St. between Jackson and Madison street was the first in Springfield to be laid with asphalt.

It was hoped at the time that the new pavement would be the starting signal for the march of progress in street improvement, but it was not.

The citizens who pay for such improvements have looked on with suspicion. Asphalting in Springfield has not been the success expected and the companies that have done the work have been to blame.

One of the conditions in the contract for Fourth street was that the company should repair the street for five years.

It was not long until the surface was badly cracked and large holes appeared. It required extreme language to compel the company to fix up the street. The last repair gang came only after the newspapers had called attention to the condtion of the street in such forcible terms that it could no longer be ignored.

The street is now deplorable. In some blocks there are half a dozen big holes. The concrete foundation is bodly worn in places. The pavement is a standing warning to Springfield property owners to have nothing to do with asphalt and to put no faith in the agreements made to maintain repairs for a specified period of five years.

It is a source of regret that this is so. Bloomington now has all its business streets repaved with asphalt laid over the old brick. Decatur's business section is of the same material. Peoria has miles of this smooth noisless and clean pavement. Springfield is content to stay with brick so long as the asphalt companies lay such pavements as Fourth street and then neglect to keep them in repair according to contract."

THE BIRTH RECORD..

Born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jepson of 419 Goltra avenue, a son.

Early Thursday morning a woman presented herself at the office of Dr. H. C. Woltman on West State street and asked for treatment. Dr. Woltman was unacquainted with the woman, but readily gave her attention. After understanding her case he had the patient removed to Passavant hospital, where at about 11 o'clock she gave birth to a son. The woman after she had become a mother, gave her name as Mrs. Fred Smith and said that she, with her husband, resided on a farm near the city. Both mother and child are doing well.

Born, Thursday, to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jepson, corner of Goltra avenue and Garnett street, a son.

SEVERAL FREE ACTS

Something Doing All the Time at the Great Cosmopolitan Shows on Cannon Lot on North Main Street.

There is something doing all the time at the Great Cosmopolitan shows and besides the many pay attractions several sensational free acts are carried, each act being produced in the open air twice daily, weather permitting. Among the free acts are Professor Charles Johnson, king of the bounding wire; Dare Devil Meyers, riding a 50-foot degree incline and leaping a 40-foot gap and Thomas Quincy, said to be the champion of the world's high headforemost divers. Mr. Quincy dives from an 87-foot tower into a tank 6x12 and containing but 3½ feet of water.

For those that like exciting and cooling rides warm evenings there will be the highest Ferris wheel on the road, and a handsome merry-ga-round, with galloping horses, rocking boats and whirling tubs.

Besides the above attractions, a large shooting gallery, penny arcade, photo gallery, dodging monkeys, splendid plam readers, electric candy kitchen, Maud, the original kicking mule, high strikers, baby racks, cane and knife racks and twenty other attractions.

The notice below is an article, in part that appeared in a recent edition of the Mail of Bedford, Ind., where the shows played the Fourth of July.

"The Cosmopolitan Carnival company opened all their shows last night and the street fair is now in full sway.

"The shows last night were all the management claims, well worth the money, and were well conducted. All of the attractions visited by a representative of the Mail were strictly moral, and there was absolutely no part of the performances that would tend to offend any one.

"The free acts attached to the affair are good and well worth a trip to the grounds."

NEW WOODMEN HOME OPENED

Public Reception Given Last Night. —Hundreds who Attended Delighted With the Lodge Headquarters.

The new home of Camp 912 Modern Woodmen on the south side of the square was thrown open to the public last night in a general reception. The hours were from 8 until 10:30 o'clock and during that time hundreds of friends of the members called to inspect the hall and to enjoy the hospitality of the lodge. The general charge of the event was in the hands of the dedicatory committee, Messrs John N. Joaquin, C. F. Tenn and Dr. J. U. Day. The reception committee included Messrs E. M. Vasconcellos, D. P. Nevius and George W. Hamilton.

The many visitors were all cordially received by members of the committee and were shown through rooms of the home and later were invited into the dining room where ice cream and cake were generously served by Mrs. J. N. Joaquin, Mrs. C. F. Tonn, Mrs. Catherine Lynn and James A. Scott. During the hours of the reception the Osborne-Drake orchestra furnished music which was an enjoyable feature of the program. Flowers and ferns presented by Heinl & Sons were used for decorations and added to the attractiveness of the hall.

The compliments received by the members of the lodge on their new home were many, for nothing has been overlooked in making the rooms attractive and suitable for the uses intended. The general description of the lodge home appeared in the Journal a few days since and suffice it to say that last night the brilliantly lighted rooms made a favorable impression on all who inspected them. E.M. Vasconcellos had charge of the work of remodeling hall and he certainly did his task well, having something good to show for every dollar expended. The reception room is especially convenient and comfortable and the furnishings are very handsome and tasty. There are numerous lockers and closets and the idea of convenience has been kept constantly in mind. In the hall proper the walls and ceiling are finished in buff and the old floor has been made to look like new. The settees and chairs for the officers and members are all of polished oak and the whole effect of the room is very pleasing. It can be truthfully said that the new home is the nicest hall in Jacksonville, which can be used by more than one order. The reception last night was nicely planned and all of the many who attended were shown every courtesy.
